

PROPOSED HAWAIIAN BUILDING AT EXPOSITION OF 1915

FAMILY CIRCLE IN WHITE HOUSE
BUSILY ENGAGED WITH WEDDING

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 13.—The family circle at the White House is busily engaged these days in opening boxes, breaking seals and unwrapping packages of every shape and size—all containing presents for Miss Jessie Wilson, who is to be married November 25 to Francis B. Sayre.

Some of the gifts have come from officials in distant lands. Strict secrecy, however, is being maintained as to the nature of the presents.

Knowledge of two of Miss Wilson's gifts is widespread, however. A platinum lavallier, set with diamonds and enclosed in a silver box, the gift of the members of the house of representatives, is one, and a Pekinese puppy, Ping Pong, said to be on his way across the ocean, under the auspices of the American embassy in London, is another.

A two-story wedding cake, and boxes, have been ordered from New York. The cake is described as having a foundation layer 22 inches in diameter and four inches thick. The upper layer will be 16 inches in diameter and as many high. The top ornament will be a base with white sugar orchids. The wedding cake, in boxes will be pretty souvenirs of a historic occasion. The initials S. W. appear on the corner stamped in silver, with a diamond-shaped border. In size they are three inches by two and an inch and a quarter thick. Narrow white ribbons will tie them.

Mrs. Wilson will attend the Paderewski concert this afternoon.

She will be accompanied in her box by Miss Wilson, Miss Bones, the Misses Smith of Louisiana, guests at the White House, and Miss Hagner.

Miss Jessie Wilson, who went to Philadelphia yesterday, will return this afternoon.

Miss Eleanor Wilson, younger daughter of the president and Mrs. Wilson, was one of the happy throng of young people who attended the reception and dance at the Washington Barracks given as a welcome of Colonel Kuhn, commandant and Mrs. Kuhn, and was chaperoned by Miss Hagner.

Mrs. John Bassett Moore, with her daughters, Miss Phillis Moore and Miss Ann Moore, have arrived at their new home, 1767 Q street, which they will occupy for the season.

Rear Admiral H. T. Mayo, U. S. N., and Mrs. Mayo will leave Washington Monday for Newport, R. I., to spend about six weeks.

Admiral Mayo will take a short course at the war college at Newport before taking up his duties with the Atlantic fleet, when he will be in charge of the division.

Mrs. Wing and Miss Mayo will spend the winter at the house at 1921 Nineteenth street, which they leased this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin MacVeagh are back at their Washington home for the winter.

NEW ZEALAND DECIDES ON NAVY OF HER OWN

Premier Announces End of the Subsidy Policy in That Domain

(By Latest Mail)

WELLINGTON, New Zealand.—The premier announces that the government has decided to discontinue the subsidy to the imperial navy and to take up a greater responsibility. It has accepted the imperial government's offer for a light cruiser as a training ship.

The aim of British citizens was, he said, naval supremacy in the Pacific just as in European waters. Meanwhile the training of New Zealanders would begin.

(The above indicates that New Zealand has decided to follow the example of Australia in building a navy of her own instead of contributing ships, as hitherto, to the imperial navy under the control of the admiralty in London.)

5000 BARBERS
STRIKE AND LET
WHISKERS GROW

(By Latest Mail)

NEW YORK.—If you want to get shaved or have your hair cut, don't try to enter a barber shop south of Fourteenth street, for you will be disappointed, according to the program outlined by Mark Brill, secretary of Local 610 of the International Union of the American Federation of Labor Barbers, who says that 5000 of the men will go on strike.

After the proprietors of the barber shops south of Fourteenth street have granted the demands of the barbers, the union will then consider the status of their brethren in the upper sections of the city, while the cases of those laboring in Brooklyn will also come in for consideration later.

Mr. Brill says that 5000 barbers will be out on strike and prophesies that the man who does not wield a safety razor and who generally gets shaved downtown will have to change his schedule and get shaved elsewhere or else permit his whiskers to grow in all their native luxuriance.

STRONG PLEA FOR THE PLAYGROUND

Former Portland Man Tells of the Scope of the Great Movement

(By Latest Mail)

SACRAMENTO — "Comparatively few persons realize the scope and importance of the playground movement. The very name brings to the mind a picture of sand boxes and swings and little ones playing with dolls. This is where the movement began 10 years or so ago, and to the men and women who have not kept in touch with it during the decade that has passed it has not advanced beyond that stage. But this was only the beginning of a wise utilization of the instinct for play which lasts from childhood nearly to the grave. By the intelligent use and development of this instinct, the forces of the underworld are destined to be overcome."

In these words, Vincent Jones, formerly of Portland, but now a resident of this city, opened an interview on playground work. Mr. Jones has made a study of the playground and park question, particularly in its financial aspects, and is well qualified to speak on the subject.

Sacramento Lags Behind.

"Sacramento is distinctly behind the times in the matter of playgrounds," he said. "The citizens as a whole here seem to think because the city is full of trees and because in the residential districts the houses have yards and lawns, that there is no need for playgrounds. This sentiment, which is probably the cause of the city's backwardness in the playground movement, simply shows ignorance of the scope and importance of the playground work as a civic reform movement."

In Portland, when the playground movement was in its infancy, the same argument was made and with better reasons than in Sacramento, for that city, which was built among the woods, was a real park. But see what an investigation showed. A survey of the city was made in the interest of the playground movement and it was found that in one area and that not the most congested in the city, there were about 10,000 people residing in 134 city blocks in which there were but 32 vacant lots where children could get off the street to play. Children, little and big, were forced to the streets to play.

"In this same district during the years before the playgrounds were established five little ones were killed by automobiles. A large proportion of the cases in the juvenile court came from this district."

"Here is the proposition reduced to dollars and cents. In a city growing as fast as Sacramento in a very few years there will be many areas so congested that the children will be forced to the streets as their only place of recreation. In one year in Portland an entire street was built up on both sides, 25 feet to each house, and the conditions almost equalled those in a tenement district. Buy While Land is Cheap."

"The time to lay out and purchase playgrounds is before improvements cause a big advance in land prices. All these improvements must be paid for later by the city. Central park cost the city of New York about five and a half million dollars. Recently the city paid $8,000,000 for three small playgrounds on the east side, far more than all of Central park cost in 1850. In Portland in the last ten years residence values have increased 225 per cent in first-class property, 250 in second-class, 300 per cent in third-class property, while business values advanced nearly 100 per cent. On the whole values increased from 95 to 170 per cent faster than the population. If Sacramento doubles in population in ten years you can figure what it will mean to land values. It is the part of wisdom to buy ground for playgrounds while it is cheap."

"It is a great mistake to underrate the importance of the playground movement. This is a great work of vital importance to the city and the nation. The playground and the school are correlated. To undertake the management of playgrounds without a central head is a serious error. What would you think of a city that tried to run its schools without a central head? The playground work is now considered of such importance in the East that schools have been established to train playground superintendents."

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

The Effects of Opiates.

THAT INFANTS are peculiarly susceptible to opium and its various preparations, all of which are narcotic, is well known. Even in the smallest doses, if continued, these opiates cause changes in the functions and growth of the cells, which are likely to become permanent, causing imbecility, mental perversion, a craving for alcohol or narcotics in later life. Nervous diseases, such as intractable nervous dyspepsia and lack of staying power, are a result of dosing with opiates or narcotics to keep children quiet in their infancy. The rule among physicians is that children should never receive opiates in the smallest doses for more than a day at a time, and only then if unavoidable.

The administration of Anodynes, Drops, Cordials, Soothing Syrups and other narcotics to children by any but a physician cannot be too strongly decried, and the druggist should not be a party to it. Children who are ill need the attention of a physician, and it is nothing less than a crime to dose them willfully with narcotics. Castoria contains no narcotics if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

The signature of Chas. H. Fletcher guarantees genuine Castoria.

Physicians Recommend Castoria.

"Your preparation known as Castoria I have used for years in children's complaints and I have found nothing better." John J. Latta, M. D., Cleveland, Ohio.

"For several years I recommended your 'Castoria' and shall always continue to do so, as it has invariably produced beneficial results." Edwin F. Parker, M. D., New York City.

"Your Castoria is a meritorious household remedy. It is purely vegetable and acts as a mild cathartic. Above all, it does no harm, which is more than can be said of the great majority of children's remedies." Vernon H. Cochrane, M. D., Omaha, Neb.
